

Listening Session and Strategic Discussion Series:

Emerging Issues around COVID-19 and Social Determinants of Health for the Substance Use Prevention, Treatment and Recovery Workforces

Listening Session 1: How COVID-19 is differentially impacting SU prevention, treatment and recovery in communities of color and/or underserved communities: How can we address this?

Co-Facilitator Bios:

Nicole M Augustine, MPH, MCHES, CPS

Research Associate

Coordinator, Southeast Prevention Technology Transfer Center

Nicole Augustine has been working in the field of prevention since 2001. She has a Master of Public Health degree from The George Washington University School of Public Health. Nicole is employed at Wake Forest Baptist School of Medicine as the Project Coordinator for the North Carolina Behavioral Health Equity

Initiative (NC BHEI) and the Project Coordinator for the Southeast Prevention Technology Transfer Center (Southeast PTTC). The goal of the NCBHEI project is to support communities in identifying, acting on, and effectively addressing a key behavioral health equity issues. The goal of the Southeast PTTC is to provide training and technical assistance to individuals and organizations in the substance misuse prevention field in the Southeast region of the United States (HHS Regions 4). Nicole is a passionate prevention provider, committed to supporting initiatives designed to address the complex substance use issues affecting our society.

Holly Hagle, Ph.D.

Co-Director ATTC Network
Coordinating Office (NCO)

Co-Director ATTC STR-TA grant

PI/Co-Director Prevention
Technology Transfer Center (PTTC NCO)

Holly Hagle, Ph.D. is an Assistant Research Professor at the Collaborative to Advance Health Services, at the University of Missouri-Kansas City's School of Nursing and Health Studies. Dr. Hagle is a proven leader and educator with over 18 years' experience developing educational programming, curricula for traditional face-to-face and online education, supervision of staff and consultants, and the management of multi-million dollar federal grant budgets. She is the Co-Director of the National Addiction Technology Transfer Center (ATTC) Network Coordinating Office (NCO) and Principal Investigator (PI) for the Prevention Technology Transfer Center (PTTC) NCO. In addition, she is the UMKC PI, and Co-Director on behalf of the ATTC Network for the Opioid State Targeted Response Technical Assistance (STR-TA) grant. Dr. Hagle has been actively working with medical and behavioral health providers for more than 20 years on the integration of behavioral health interventions, including educational programming on intercultural sensitivity. Her area of expertise is in adolescent co-occurring disorders, screening, brief intervention, and referral to treatment, and the application of evidence-based practices in community settings with a special focus on qualitative research methods.