Prevention Technology Transfer Center (NeC-PTTC) presents

Adolescent Development, Substance Use, and Current Trends

In-person Training

Tuesday, February 18th

9:00AM - 4:00PM

Course Description: Working effectively with adolescents with substance use issues warrants an understanding of stages of development, and how factors of family, biology, peer, mental health problems influences youth behavior. Along with reviewing these aspects of the adolescent's 'world', this interactive training will also review current substance use trends with a major focus on vaping and impact. Content will further inform on recommended best practices for addressing problematic adolescent behavior, as well as strategies to engage and support healthy youth development.
