

Enhanced Prevention Learning Series (EPLS): Prevention Ethics

EPLS Prevention Ethics Overview

This distance learning series offers a unique interactive experience that explores the six principles of the Prevention Code of Ethics using realistic examples designed to strengthen participants' abilities to manage challenging situations in their work. The learning series is structured to also provide online consultation, skill-based learning and practice, group and individual activities, reading assignments, and discussion on topics essential to application of an ethical decision-making process.

During this webinar participants will:

1. Define Ethics and related terms.
2. Describe the six principles in the Prevention Code of Ethics.
3. Use an ethical decision-making process to apply the Prevention Code of Ethics.

Facilitator

Christina Lopez-Gutierrez, has extensive experience in evidence-based substance misuse prevention practices at the local, state and bi-national levels. Her career began in the late 1990's implementing "model" curricula in communities and evolved to providing Training/Technical Assistance (T/TA) support to community-based coalitions, single state agencies, community stakeholders and Promoters and Community Health Workers. Ms. Gutierrez has been part of various training teams to include the U.S.-Mexico Border states and sister cities in Mexico with delivery of the Strategic Prevention Framework in Spanish. Additionally, Ms. Gutierrez has been part of SAMSHA's regional training teams and called upon to provide training to various Latino and Native American populations to cater to cultural needs. More recently Ms. Gutierrez's work includes being part of a state-wide evaluation team that provides evaluation support to grantees aiming to decrease Prescription Misuse and Underage drinking issues around the state.
