

Enhanced Prevention Learning Series

Getting Ready for Sustainability Planning

Series Description

This 7-week distance learning series offers an interactive experience for participants to explore how to develop a sustainability plan. Sustainability planning is an intentional process of looking critically at your current prevention infrastructure, strategic planning process, and strategies to sustain meaningful prevention outcomes beyond current funding. Additional steps in sustainability planning include priority setting, resource and feasibility analysis, communication planning, and resource and grant development.

The trainer will demonstrate how to use a set of tools to facilitate sustainability planning with community partners and will coach participants to set actionable steps and timelines to complete a plan over the next year. The distance learning series will include skill-based learning opportunities, individual and group activities, reading assignments, and group discussion.

Trainer

Kris Gabrielsen, MPH, has worked in substance misuse prevention for nearly 30 years. She served as the Associate Director of the Western Center for the Application of Prevention Technologies (CAPT), co-authored the first Substance Abuse Prevention Specialist Training curriculum, and co-authored the textbook, Substance Abuse Prevention: The Intersection of Science and Practice. She currently works with states and communities across the nation to bridge the gap between research and practice, assisting prevention professionals in maximizing their effectiveness.

Participant Commitments and Expectations

- View a 20-minute video on how to maximize the video conferencing platform and complete the Session 1 prep packet prior to the first session on Wednesday, May 12, 2021
- Attend each of the seven (1.5 hour) sessions in series
- Complete up to an hour of independent learning activities between each session
- Use a web-camera and have the appropriate technology to join the online videoconferencing platform (i.e., internet connection, built-in or USB webcam, laptop/tablet, built-in/USB/Bluetooth speakers & microphone)
- Actively engage and be on camera 90% of the time during each session since this is not a webinar series, and active participation is essential to gain/improve skills.

Continuing Education

Participants who complete all 7 sessions will receive a certificate of attendance for 16 contact hours. No partial credit is given for this course if participants miss more than one session. Participants will need to confirm with their certification board to determine if these certification hours are accepted towards their specific certification requirements.
