Sharpening Your Prevention Tools Series: Developing Sustainability Plans that Work

Session 1

Webinar: Wednesday, March 8, 2023
1:00 PM – 2:30 PM (EST)

“No man is an island,” and as prevention practitioners, we collaborate with partners to build healthier communities day in and day out. We have many tools to support our work but, like a chef with a dull knife or a health care provider with a broken stethoscope, these tools are only useful if they are kept in good working order. Join us for a series of virtual technical assistance sessions to explore three tools – sustainability plans, strategic plans and logic models – that can support your efforts to create community change. In all three sessions, experts will set the stage by introducing each tool and give participants the opportunity to ask questions in this interview-style series.

Speaker Bio:

Emily Bhargava is skilled in facilitation, strategic and sustainability planning, and evaluation design. For over 15 years, she has led community-level health promotion efforts. She is an expert in the prevention of substance abuse, violence, suicide, teen pregnancy, obesity, and HIV, guiding the planning and implementation of culturally and linguistically responsive community-level prevention and health promotion efforts across Massachusetts and the United States. Emily holds an MA in Medical Anthropology from the University of Amsterdam.
