

SAMHSA Training and Technical Assistance Resources

1/2023

Technology Transfer Centers Program (TTC)

The purpose of the Technology Transfer Centers (TTC) program is to develop and strengthen the specialized behavioral healthcare and primary healthcare workforce that provides substance use disorder (SUD) and mental health prevention, treatment, and recovery support services. The TTC program is comprised of 3 networks: Addiction Technology Transfer Centers (ATTC), Mental Health Technology Transfer Centers (MHTTC) and Prevention Technology Transfer Centers (PTTC).

◆ Addiction Technology Transfer Centers (ATTC):

The ATTCs support national and regional activities focused on preparing tools needed by practitioners to improve the quality-of-service delivery and to providing intensive technical assistance to provider organizations to improve their processes and practices in the delivery of effective SUD treatment and recovery services.

Website: <https://atccnetwork.org/>

SAMHSA POC: Twyla.Adams@samhsa.hhs.gov

ATTC Coordinating Office POC: Laurie Krom, kroml@umkc.edu

◆ Mental Health Technology Transfer Centers (MHTTC):

The MHTTC network supports resource development and dissemination, training and technical assistance, and workforce development for the mental health field. The MHTTC network works with systems, organizations, and treatment practitioners involved in the delivery of mental health services to strengthen their capacity to deliver effective evidence-based practices to individuals. Their services cover the full continuum spanning mental illness prevention, treatment, and recovery support.

SAMHSA POC: Steven.Dettwyler@samhsa.hhs.gov

and Kimberly.Reynolds@samhsa.hhs.gov

MHTTC Coordinating Office POC: Heather Gotham, gothamh@stanford.edu

◆ Prevention Technology Transfer Centers (PTTC):

PTTC Network focus is to improve implementation and delivery of effective substance abuse prevention interventions and provide training and technical assistance services to the substance abuse prevention field. It does this by developing and disseminating tools and strategies needed to improve the quality of substance abuse prevention efforts; providing intensive technical assistance and learning resources to prevention professionals in order to improve their understanding of prevention science, epidemiological data, and implementation of evidence-based and promising practices; and, developing tools and resources to engage the next generation of prevention professionals.

National Child Traumatic Stress Initiative (NCTSI)

The National Child Traumatic Stress Initiative (NCTSI) raises awareness about the impact of trauma on children and adolescents as a behavioral health concern. This initiative improves treatment and services for children, adolescents, and families who have experienced traumatic events. We commonly refer to the national network of grantees as the National Child Traumatic Stress Network (NCTSN). Since its inception the NCTSN has been comprised of three types of centers (initially there were all cooperative agreements, currently the Category I is a cooperative agreement and the Category II and III are regular discretionary grants:

- ◆ The National Center for Child Traumatic Stress (Category-I: infrastructure) - develops and maintains the collaborative network structure, supports resource development and dissemination, and coordinates the Network's national child trauma education and training efforts.
- ◆ The Treatment and Service Adaptation Centers (Category-II: infrastructure) - provides national expertise in the Network for specific types of traumatic events, population groups, and service systems, and support the development and adaptation of effective evidence-based trauma treatment and service approaches for children, adolescents, and their families.
- ◆ The Community Treatment and Services Centers (Category-III: services) - implements and evaluates effective treatment and services in community settings and youth-serving service systems and collaborates with other NCTSN centers on clinical issues, service approaches, policy, financing, and training.
